

E-R3 - Recognition: named-expert press coverage, Nairametrics (2022)

Criterion: Mandatory recognition - digital technology

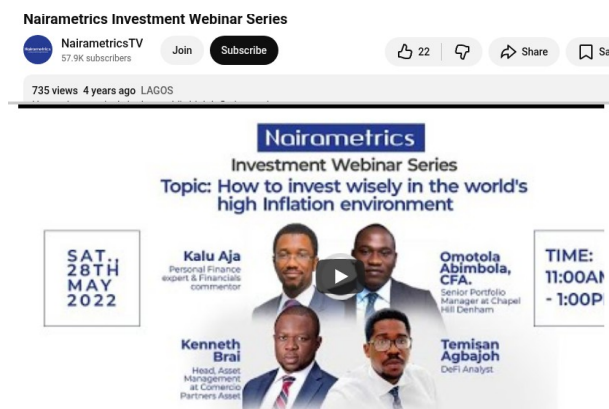

Applicant: Temisan Gerrard Agbajoh

Summary

In 2022, four years before this application, Nairametrics - a Nigerian business and financial news publication - treated me publicly as a digital-assets expert, in two ways. It invited me onto its public Investment Webinar as a guest expert (29 May 2022) and covered that appearance in two named articles. Two months later it came back to me independently of the webinar, quoting and interviewing me by name and title in two July 2022 articles. This 2022 record is the earliest point in the arc the recognition exhibits document: 2022 industry expert (this exhibit and E-R4), 2025-26 institutional product recognition (E-R1), 2026 founder recognition (E-R2). Every item below is shown as published, captured live on 14 September 2026.

The webinar - 29 May 2022, Nairametrics Investment Webinar Series

I appeared as one of four invited market experts on the Nairametrics Investment Webinar, a public programme published on Nairametrics' own YouTube channel. The recording's title card, shown below, names me as "Temisan Agbajoh - DeFi Analyst" alongside the other panellists. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=f9DNnucxN2o> (The recording itself is documented as broadcast evidence in exhibit E-R4.)

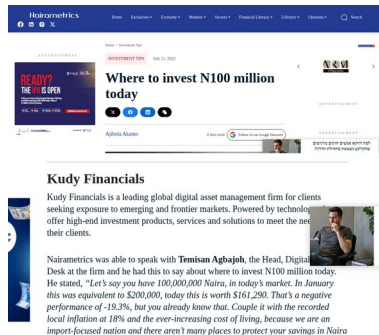

Webinar recording: channel, date and speaker card naming Temisan Agbajoh as DeFi Analyst alongside the other panellists

Independent coverage - July 2022

Two months after the webinar, Nairametrics returned to me independently of it.

21 July 2022: “Where to invest N100 million today”

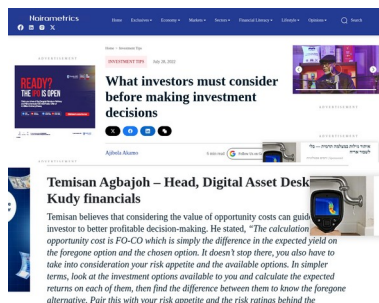

Interview with me as “Head, Digital Asset Desk” at Kudy Financials, on allocating institutional-scale capital. <https://nairametrics.com/2022/07/21/where-to-invest-n100-million-today/>

Article: headline, date and named title attribution

28 July 2022: “What investors must consider before making investment decisions”

Quotes me by name and title on investor decision-making. <https://nairametrics.com/2022/07/28/what-investors-must-consider-before-making-investment-decisions/>

Article: headline, date and named title attribution

The articles are shown exactly as published. The title they carry, “Head, Digital Asset Desk”, is the title used publicly at the time; my employment record uses the official title (DeFi Analyst), and the CV follows the employment record.

Coverage from the webinar - 29 May 2022

Two articles arose from the webinar appearance itself.

“Why the crypto market will bounce back - Expert”

Coverage of the webinar, attributed by name: “This was disclosed by Temisan Agbajoh, a DeFi analyst, during Nairametrics’ Investment Webinar.”

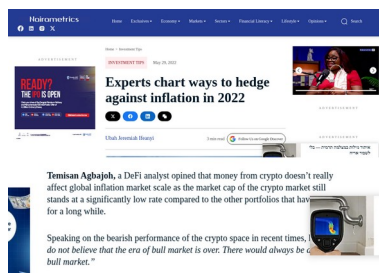

<https://nairametrics.com/2022/05/29/nairametrics-investment-webinar-why-the-crypto-market-will-bounce-back-expert/>

Article: headline, date and named attribution

“Experts chart ways to hedge against inflation in 2022”

Second article from the same webinar, quoting my analysis alongside the other invited experts. <https://nairametrics.com/2022/05/29/nairametrics-investment-webinar-experts-chart-ways-to-hedge-against-inflation-in-2022/>

Article: headline, date and named quote

Timeline

- 29 May 2022 - guest expert on the Nairametrics Investment Webinar; two named articles from the appearance.
- 1 June 2022 - interviewed DeFi expert, Channels Television Business Morning (exhibit E-R4).
- 21 and 28 July 2022 - two further independent Nairametrics articles, by name and title.
- 2025-26 - institutional product recognition: Ripple's evaluation of the ZILO work (exhibit E-R1).
- 2026 - founder recognition: Arbitrum Founder House selection (exhibit E-R2).

Why this is recognition

Nairametrics is an independent Nigerian business and financial news publication. Its producers chose me as a guest expert for a public investment webinar, and its editors then quoted me as a named expert, by title, across two months in 2022. Taken together, this establishes an early independent public record of my recognised digital-assets expertise, several years before the current application and my later institutional and founder work.